

Estimated Hours

We estimate that it will take, at least, about an hour each day to complete this project. There is an extra challenge in this project of first taking the time to understand what the prior group created and then to take that a step further. This should equal out to be about 15- 20 hours per person, including working on the project as a group in person and individually out of the group meetings. We came to this conclusion because based on our last project and our custom feature shouldn't be too far off than our previous actual amount of hours of roughly 18 hours per person.
